

Dr. Timothy J. Johnson is the Craig and Audrey Thorn Distinguished Professor of Religion at Flagler College in St. Augustine, Florida. A Senior Fulbright Scholar, he holds a Doctorate in Sacred Theology from the Pontifical Gregorian University (Italy). He has held visiting professor and scholar positions at Cambridge University (England), Dresden University (Germany), Eichstätt-Ingolstadt University (Germany), Saint Bonaventure University (United States), the College of Saint Bonaventure (Zambia), and the Pontifical Antonianum University (Italy). He is a senior theology co-editor for Franciscan Studies and Chair of the Research Advisory Council of the Franciscan Institute at St. Bonaventure University. Dr. Johnson is the author, co-author, editor, co-editor, or translator of seventeen books and eighty-two scholarly and popular articles. His publications have been translated into Dutch, French, German, Italian, Portuguese, and Spanish. He is a contributor to multimedia platforms such as PBS, the Florida Humanities Council, and CSPAN. In 2019 he uncovered in All Souls Library in Oxford, England, an unknown work in Latin, Spanish, and Timucua by Fr. Francisco Pareja and his Timucuan co-editors. He is currently working on a book with Prof. Agnieszka Johnson of Flagler College entitled In a Mirror Darkly: Women in the Spanish-Timucua Exempla Literature of La Florida. He also serves on the Historical Committee charged with investigating the possible canonization of the Apalachee Chief Antonio Inija and Companions.